Volume One: MARRIAGES

Introduction

This volume of 'stray' marriages is published with the hope that it will prove of some value as an additional source for the family historian. For economic reasons, the grooms' names only are listed.

Often people married many miles from their own parishes and sometimes also away from the parish of the spouse. Tracking down such a 'stray marriage' can involve fruitless and disheartening searches and may halt progress for many years.

Included here are 'strays', who were married in another parish within the county of Powys, or in another county. There are also a few non-Powys 'strays' from adjoining counties, particularly some which may be connected with Powys families.

For those researchers puzzled and confused by the thought of dealing with patronymics, when looking for their Welsh ancestors, a few are to be found here and are indicated by an asterisk. A simple study of these few examples may help in a search for others, although it must be said, that this is not so easy when the father's name is not given.

I would like to thank all those members who have helped in anyway with the compilation of this booklet. A second collection is already in progress; please send any contributions to me.
